Welcome Message

The 2023 annual meeting of the Society for Free Radical Research – Europe (SFRR-E) will be held on June 6–9, 2023, in Vienna, Austria, at the RADISON BLU PARK ROYAL PALACE HOTEL, next to the historic imperial summer palace Schönbrunn.

The court of Maria Theresia, who gave the palace its current appearance, and her son Joseph II, marked the beginning of natural sciences and – hesitantly – ideas of the enlightenment as a factor in medicine, government and everyday life. Translation of new exciting science between the many disciplines, where our fields of redox biology and free radical research deliver important scientific progress, is what will take place at our meeting, and translation of our work to society, clinics and industry is what will keep our field strong in the future.

International experts from a wide range of fields, including biology, medicine and chemistry, will find a convenient modern venue for exchange and special sessions dedicated to young researchers, early bird educational sessions, peer reviewed symposia and competitive selective oral sessions. The meeting will be accompanied by matching satellite meetings and social events that will, in this elegant setting of places rich in culture of many eras, foster interaction and exchange. The internationality of Vienna will ensure that we will not be lost in translation, but rather enjoy a free and radically joyful Viennese waltz.

We are looking forward to meeting you in Vienna 2023,

Yours Florian Gruber
